Course Credit Points: 6

Pre-requisite: 24 units of credit in the Dance stream including ARTS1005 or 24 uoc in the Film Stream including ARTS2065 or 96 units of credit overall and enrolment in Programs 3428, 3433 or the Screen and Sound or Media Production streams in Program 4781.

Summary of the Course

Choreography and the Moving Image provides the opportunity for dance, media and film students to produce an original work for the screen that is informed by the rich history and practice of dancefilm. The course includes lectures in the history and background of dancefilm as a mode that operates across genres and cultures, from the earliest days of cinema and the experiments of the Surrealists and Dadaists, through the Hollywood musical and Bollywood to today's genres of music video, feature films, dance video and experimental shorts. The course will also consider recent experiments in the field that have moved away from single-screen delivery to include live performance works and installations. Dance Majors and students from film and media will combine skills to produce collaborative video projects for one or more screens. There will be an emphasis on exploring the shared languages of dance and film regarding movement, space and time, and the compositional strategies common to both. An understanding of how 'choreography' can become a model for film production will be explored that moves away from documentation or documentary. Students will be expected to participate as filmmakers and performers, but all students will develop skills and knowledge across the 2 disciplines.

Aims of the Course

1. To increase students awareness, understanding, and skills regarding creative practice through examining strategies common to dance and film.

2. To have students successfully apply this new knowledge to the analysis and production of choreographic film and video works.

3. To develop practical and theoretical knowledges in a new field of practice.

Student Learning Outcomes

1. By the end of this course, students will be able to:

   Recognize, both conceptually and practically, key creative processes in western and non-western dancefilm practices.

2. Apply a variety of critical lenses to creative practice including physiological, aesthetic, cultural and political.

3. Demonstrate research skills in gathering, classifying and communicating information about both dance and film, involving independent critical thinking.

4. Apply writing skills to the analysis and communication of creative practices.

5. Demonstrate film and choreographic knowledge through participation in studio-based learning and production.

Graduate Attributes

1. Students will develop:

   an appreciation of dance as an influential force within the broader ecology of the humanities.
2. a firm grounding in the key concepts of corporeality and movement that form the disciplinary basis of dance.

3. a recognition of the role of somatic knowledge as fundamental to the study of dance.

4. a variety of critical approaches to both the theory and practice of dance.

5. knowledge of a diversity of dance forms, knowledges and practices beyond the Western canon.

6. research skills, both practical and theoretical, in gathering, classifying and communicating information about dance and choreography.

7. the ability to apply writing skills to the translation and communication of somatic practices and knowledges

8. the capacity to recognise and reflect on social, cultural and ethical issues, as they apply to diverse dance practices.

<tr>
<th>Rationale for the inclusion of content and teaching approach</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• The aim of the course content and teaching approach is to develop the students appreciation and understanding of dance as an art form and social practice from multiple perspectives: as dancers, audience members and theorists.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• The combination of lectures and physical practice will lead students to comprehend, interrogate and reimagine traditions in thinking, writing and making dance through both conceptual and applied learning.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• The lecture (which may include screenings), studio-based seminars and discussions encourage the student to recognize and articulate existing and new knowledges that are grounded in the body.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• A focus in the studio-seminars is the connection between the students’ existing experiences with dance and how these knowledges can elucidate the themes of the course.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Focusing on the context of dance practice, Thinking, Writing and Making Dance provides some cultural, social, historical and political frameworks for understanding the role of dance in contemporary life.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Translations of dance into writing, development of critical facility and embodied knowledge are 3 core skills that shape the Dance Studies Major. They are introduced here in relation to each other through the central themes and concepts.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• The course demonstrates the crossover between high and ‘low’ art in contemporary dance practice and the influence of concurrent aesthetic fields on its development.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• This course will equip students to take up any number of roles within the dance, dance education and wider arts community in Australia and overseas.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Teaching strategies</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• Central concepts from Dance Studies and Film Studies will be employed: from Dance: movement, kinaesthetics, choreography, subjectivity, expression, presence, improvisation and somatic knowledge; from Film: the relationship between film as a moving-image medium and other movement-based artforms, temporality, affect and the synaesthetic qualities of film making, viewing and spectatorship, practical filmmaking techniques.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Key examples of dancefilm will be discussed, both contemporary and traditional, classical and popular, Western and non-Western.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• A special focus on writing will facilitate analysis in the course, explored fully in the research paper and portfolio.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• The 2hr studio-based workshops will develop the required knowledge through various means: instruction in a class-based format, group tasks and production.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Assessment tasks are aligned with writing and practice, requiring students to demonstrate experience and learning as applied knowledge, but also to reflect and expand on that knowledge through reflective, historical, theoretical and analytical writing.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
• Students will be expected to engage in the face-to-face contact time through movement, music, discussion, debate and observation.
• Students will be introduced to method-specific forms of compositional analysis which will assist in laying the foundations of a shared compositional language.
• Lectures will expose film, media and dance students to a range of practical applications of artistic expertise developed in Level 1 and 2 courses.
• The studio workshop will allow students to further develop skills in composition and video production, in an environment requiring cooperation, teamwork, flexibility and leadership.

Submission of Assessment Tasks

In order to pass this course, you must make a serious attempt at ALL assessment tasks

All written assignments are to be submitted to Turnitin on the course Moodle site, including the 3 X 500w chosen from your journal. The journal itself must be submitted to the SAM School Office, The School Office is room 312, Level 3, Webster Building by 4pm on the due date. A School Assignment Coversheet (available outside the office) must be attached with your details clearly marked.

Submission to Turnitin

You must submit written work in 12-point font, double spaced and paginated. Do keep an electronic and hard copy yourself. If you have any problems submitting via Turnitin, send your Convener a word.doc version of your assignment immediately, together with an explanation of the problem you are encountering. You should then follow the protocol outlined at the following site:

http://teaching.unsw.edu.au/moodle-students-help

Advice about whom to contact is given when you log in to Moodle. Such advice includes the following:

If you have trouble logging in, or you cannot see your course once you login, please contact the IT Service Centre for assistance. For enrolment and login issues contact: IT Service Centre
Email: itservicecentre@unsw.edu.au Internal: x51333 External: (02) 9385-1333 International: +61 2 9385 1333

If you have difficulty using the Moodle environment or tools, please contact External TELT support. Moodle Mobile is now supported on this version of Moodle. External TELT
Support Email: externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au
Internal: 53331
External: (02) 9385 3331
International: +61 2 9385 3331

Please do not send your Course Conveners a copy of your assignment unless you are unable to submit via Turnitin. Once you have submitted you will receive a receipt to confirm that you have successfully submitted. Keep this receipt as proof of the date and time that you lodged your assignment. If you do not receive such notification, you must ask your Convener, by email, to check whether your upload was successful.

Please be aware that when you submit a UNSW course assignment online, through a facility such as Turnitin etc., you are automatically acknowledging that you have understood and abided by the University requirements in respect of student academic misconduct outlined in the Student Code Policy and Student Misconduct Procedures, both of which are available at: https://my.unsw.edu.au/student/academiclife/assessment/StudentMisconduct.html

You are also declaring that the assessment item is your own work, except where acknowledged, and has not been submitted for academic credit previously in whole or in part. In addition, you are declaring that the assessor of this item may, for assessment purposes:

* provide a copy to another staff member of the University
* communicate a copy of this assessment item to a plagiarism checking service (such as Turnitin) which may then retain a copy of the assessment item on its database for the purpose of future plagiarism checking.

An assessed task is deemed late if it is submitted after the specified time and date as set out in the course Learning Management System (LMS). The late penalty is the loss of 3% of the total possible marks for the task for each day or part thereof the work is late. Lateness will include weekends and public holidays. This does not apply to a task that is assessed but no mark is awarded. Work submitted fourteen days after the due date will be marked and feedback provided but no mark will be recorded. If the work would have received a pass mark but for the lateness and the work is a compulsory course component a student will be deemed to have met that requirement. This does not apply to a task that is assessed but no mark is awarded. Work submitted twenty-one days after the due date will not be accepted for marking or feedback and will receive no mark or grade. If the assessment task is a compulsory component of the course a student will automatically fail the course.

Attendance:

Where practical, a student’s attendance will be recorded. Individual course outlines/LMS will set out the conditions under which attendance will be measured.

A student who arrives more than 15 minutes late may be penalised for non-attendance. If such a penalty is imposed, the student must be informed verbally at the end of class and advised in writing within 24 hours.

If a student experiences illness, misadventure or other occurrence that makes absence from a class/activity unavoidable, or expects to be absent from a forthcoming class/activity, they should seek permission from the Course Authority, and where applicable, should be accompanied by an original or certified copy of a medical certificate or other form of appropriate evidence.

If a Course Authority rejects a student’s request for absence from a class or activity the student must be advised in writing of the grounds for the rejection.

A student who attends less than 80% of the classes/activities and has not submitted appropriate supporting documentation to the Course Authority to explain their absence may be awarded a final grade of UF (Unsatisfactory Fail).

A student who has submitted the appropriate documentation but attends less than 66% of the classes/activities will be asked by the Course Authority to apply to discontinue the course without failure rather than be awarded a final grade of UF. The final decision as to whether a student can be withdrawn without fail is made by Student Administration and Records.
Plagiarism

If plagiarism is found in your work when you are in first year, your lecturer will offer you assistance to improve your academic skills. They may ask you to look at some online resources, attend the Learning Centre, or sometimes resubmit your work with the problem fixed. However more serious instances in first year, such as stealing another student’s work or paying someone to do your work, may be investigated under the Student Misconduct Procedures. Repeated plagiarism (even in first year), plagiarism after first year, or serious instances, may also be investigated under the Student Misconduct Procedures. The penalties under the procedures can include a reduction in marks, failing a course or for the most serious matters (like plagiarism in a honours thesis) even suspension from the university. The Student Misconduct Procedures are available here www.unsw.edu.au/studentmisconductprocedures.pdf (PDF).

Assessment Detail

1. Dancefilm or Video Work  |  3-5mins  |  50%

In groups combining film and dance students you will research, storyboard, shoot, edit and present a short work (3-5mins) in the final class screening. The work should demonstrate an innovative and integrated approach to the composition as a whole, drawing on and applying knowledges and approaches covered in the course. Approaches to the relationship between dance and film could be an interest in various kinds of movement including found movement, narrative, location, a focus on the dancing body through close-up, play with the frame, or the choreographic potential of the edit and the moving camera.

2. Portfolio

A personal portfolio of the workshop process based on set writing tasks, reports on process and decision-making and documenting feedback and contributions. You will submit 4 X 500w entries for assessment.

Each student will be expected to keep a journal recording responses to studio-based learning. There may be some writing exercises attached to this and tasks such as story-boarding and synopsis writing. The journal also reflects the level of your participation in this course. Choreography and the Moving Image develops analytical skills, creativity, kinaesthetic knowledge, visual and bodily intelligence which can only be acquired by fully participating in the practical sessions and their accompanying discussions. The journal should record your engagement with lecturers, peers and viewers of your film work, demonstrating how you have participated in an exchange with those you are working with.

For your chosen responses write in prose, exploring writing techniques discussed in class. Please asterix choices in your journal and writing legibly, or re-type and insert in your journal.

Guidelines for journal writing will be distributed in the second lecture.
