Enrolment advice

Interested students must complete an Expression Of Interest form, prepare a CV which will be developed during the workshop, and attend a meeting with Dr Erin Brannigan (by appointment only) to discuss their eligibility and the internships on offer. Students must have completed a minimum of 24 units of credit in either the Dance Studies stream or the Theatre and Performance Studies Stream with a current minimum WAM of 70. Please check that you meet these pre-requisites before making your application to Dr Erin Brannigan.

As enrolment is subject to course convenor and School approval, students interested in gaining academic credit for an internship under ARTS3013, should follow these steps:

- Enrol in a full load, including another elective (as a fall-back in case your internship is not approved)
- Consult the list of possible internships
- Prepare your Expression of Interest Form and a CV with your contact details and send to k.plume@unsw.edu.au by January 30
- Dr Erin Brannigan (e.brannigan@unsw.edu.au) will contact you to discuss internships on offer and your eligibility by 4pm Friday February 28, 2014 (for Semester 1). She will contact you earlier if the internships you are interested in begin before session. Internships will not be approved after the deadline.
- Attend an interview with 2 or 3 of the partner organisations.
- Once an internship placement has been approved, students will then be permitted to drop their other elective and enrol in ARTS3013.
- Enrolments close March 31

Please visit this address for all relevant documents:
https://sam.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/resources/performance-students/internships/

Attendance Requirements

- A student is expected to attend all class and internship contact hours.
- A student who attends less than 80% of class contact hours without justification may be awarded a final grade of UF (Unsatisfactory Fail).
- If a student experiences illness, misadventure or other occurrence that makes absence from a class/activity unavoidable, they should seek permission from the Course Authority. The application should be accompanied by an original or certified copy of a medical certificate or other form of appropriate evidence.
- A Course Authority may excuse a student from classes for up to one month. A student seeking approval to be absent for more than one month must apply in writing to the Dean.
- A student who has submitted the appropriate documentation but attends less than 66% of the classes/activities will be asked by the Course Authority to apply to discontinue the course without failure.
- For more information about the FASS attendance protocols, see the SAM policies and guidelines webpage: https://sam.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/resources/policies-guidelines/

Course details

| Course Statistics | Level 3
|---|---
| 90-100hrs b/w January and July 2014
| Course Credit Points: 6
| Elective Unit
| Pre-requisite: 24 Units of credit and a minimum WAM of 70 in Dance Studies of Theatre and Performance Studies. |

| Summary of the Course | In Performing Arts Internships, 3rd year Dance and Theatre and Performance Studies majors are allocated industry internships. This is an opportunity for the Majors to explore a potential career path, immersing themselves in one facet of the performing arts industry.
| Students interested in developing their performance technique, observing creative developments, supporting community-based performing arts organisations or administrators, or learning about dramaturgical processes would be partnered with an appropriate organization such as Sydney Dance Company, Force Majeure, Critical Path, Performance Space, Urban Theatre Projects, PACT, Performing Lines, Belvoir, Carriageworks and the UNSW Creative Practice Lab (CPL).
| The aim of the course is for students to experience the multitude of creative practices that make up our performing arts industry, and make progress in their chosen career path. They will gain experience working with practicing artists and the various contexts in which they present their work, and be exposed to the development, production and administrative side of the arts. |

| Aims of the Course | To expand and deepen knowledge of career pathways in the performing arts industry through immersion in one facet of the industry.
| To fine-tune skills in independent thinking in the context of real-world applications, utilising knowledges accrued across the Dance Studies and Theatre and Performance Studies Majors.
| To gain meaningful experiences with industry partners that will support future engagement with the performing arts community. |

| Student Learning Outcomes | By the end of this course, students will be able to:
| Recognize the various facets of the performing arts industry and how teaching and learning, creative development, production and administration are inter-connected.
| Apply a variety of critical lenses to the role of physical performance as a type of knowledge in the broader aesthetic, cultural, social and economic contexts that make up the performing arts industry.
| Demonstrate research skills in gathering, classifying and communicating information about activities focused on human movement and performance, involving independent critical thinking.
| Apply writing skills to the translation and communication of performance practices and... |
Graduate Attributes

1. Demonstrate physical awareness and knowledge through participation in, or observation of, creative process and performance.

Graduate Attributes

2. Dance students will develop:
   - an appreciation of dance as an influential force within the broader ecology of the humanities.
   - a firm grounding in the key concepts of corporeality and movement that form the disciplinary basis of dance.
   - a recognition of the role of somatic knowledge as fundamental to the study of dance.
   - a variety of critical approaches to both the theory and practice of dance.
   - knowledge of a diversity of dance forms, knowledges and practices beyond the Western canon.
   - research skills, both practical and theoretical, in gathering, classifying and communicating information about dance and choreography.
   - the ability to apply writing skills to the translation and communication of somatic practices and knowledges.
   - the capacity to recognize and reflect on social, cultural and ethical issues, as they apply to diverse dance practices.

Graduate Attributes

TPS students will develop:

1. the ability to analyse theatre and performance as social signifying practices;
2. the knowledge and understanding of theories and critical languages and the ability to apply them to the discussion of theatre and cultural performance;
3. the capacity to observe and participate in performance in a self-aware and creative manner, use performance vocabularies, skills, structures and working methods;
4. the ability and skills required to analyze and interpret written texts, and to effect thoughtful imaginative transitions from the page to the performance space;
5. the knowledge and capacity to discuss and debate the relevance of live art in the contemporary information age;
6. the skills involved in a variety of verbal, written, and performative modes of public communication;
7. the ability to read texts with critical and historical awareness and to produce coherent written work with appropriate scholarly conventions;
8. the capacity to pursue an independent line of investigation through analytical and creative practice;
9. the ability to carry out self-directed management of learning, time and resources.

Rationale for the inclusion of content and teaching approach

- Central concepts from the Dance Studies major (movement, kinaesthetics, choreography, subjectivity, expression, presence, improvisation and somatic knowledge) and Theatre and Performance Studies major (dramaturgy, performativity, semiotics, historiography, collaboration, as well as many of the above) will be carried into this subject where students will be fine-tuning skills in independent research utilising knowledge accrued.

- These concepts will be re-approached through a consideration of how they function in broader aesthetic, cultural, social and economic contexts of the performing arts industry.
- Students will be encouraged to immerse themselves in one facet of the industry to support their ability to navigate a performance-related career path.
- Students will be encouraged to recognise and account for how the various facets of performance - teaching and learning, creative development, production and administration - are inter-connected.
- Writing tasks will facilitate the approach in both Majors to translating physical knowledge and practice into written texts.
- Internships will be appointed based on a student’s work and interests as they have emerged across the 1st and 2nd years of their Major.
- The hours spent with a partner organisation will be structured in consultation with the course convenor.
- The Critical Reflection, Portfolio and CV Workshop draw together writing, practice and application in industry contexts, requiring students to demonstrate physical experience and learning as embodied knowledge, but also to reflect and expand on that knowledge through historical, theoretical and analytical writing.

Hard copies should be submitted to the appropriate essay box outside the SAM School Office, Room 311U, Level 3 Robert Webster Building by 4pm on the due date. A School Assignment Coversheet (available outside the office) must be attached with your details clearly marked. You must also submit a soft copy of the essay by email to e.brannigan@unsw.edu.au

If your Portfolio includes materials that cannot be easily scanned and included in a soft copy document, please inform the course convenor.

If your assignment is not submitted within 2 weeks of its due date, it will receive a mark of 0. For more information on submission of late work, consult the FASS assessment protocols at https://sam.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/resources/policies-guidelines/.

- The Course Authority should respond to the request within two working days.
- The Course Authority can only approve an extension of up to five days. A student requesting an extension of more than five days should complete an application for Special Consideration.
- The Course Authority advises their decision through the online extension tool.
- If a student is granted an extension, failure to comply will result in a penalty. The penalty will be invoked one minute past the approved extension time.
- A student who missed an assessed activity held within class contact hours should apply for Special Consideration via myUNSW.
- This procedure does not apply to assessment tasks that take place during regular class hours or any task specifically identified by the Course Authority as not subject to extension requests.
- For more information, see the FASS extension protocols on the SAM policies and guidelines webpage: https://sam.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/resources/policies-guidelines/

Special Consideration
In the case of more serious or ongoing illness or misadventure, you will need to apply for Special Consideration. For information on Special Consideration please go to this URL: https://my.unsw.edu.au/student/atoz/SpecialConsideration.html
Students who are prevented from attending a substantial amount of the course may be advised to apply to withdraw without penalty. This will only be approved in the most extreme and properly documented cases.

Academic honesty and plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

- Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another’s ideas or words without credit.
• Inappropriate paraphrasing: changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another’s ideas or words without credit. It also applies to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without referencing and a student’s own analysis to bring the material together.

• Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person’s individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person’s academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person’s work or seeking payment for completing academic work.

• Duplication: submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

The Learning Centre also provides substantial education written materials, workshops, and tutorials to aid students, for example:

- Correct referencing practices;
- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre. Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.

It is also recommended that you include a statement about Turnitin. Eg UNSW makes use of the similarity detection tool Turnitin. For this course you are required to submit an electronic version of your written assignments so they may be reviewed using this procedure.
