Summary of the Course:

Subject Area: Music

Music studio teaching is the gateway course for the Music Pedagogy pathway in the Bachelor of Music programme. The course is focused on instrumental and vocal teaching and learning in the private studio setting. Students will make formal observations of expert teachers at work in the studio. Parallel to this, they will gain practical experience by teaching and presenting aspects of their specialist instrumental and vocal skills, with peer evaluation and support; they will also learn to appraise, evaluate and apply aspects of professional and research knowledge as they develop their individual approaches to practice.

Aims of the Course:

This aims of this course are to develop in the student:

1. The ability to articulate and explain their specialist skills and knowledge to learners in a coherent and sympathetic way.
2. A critical and creative approach to issues and methods in teaching and learning.
3. An awareness of the relationship between methods and aims.
4. A flexible attitude to evolving ideas from both professional and research knowledge.

Student learning outcomes:

At the conclusion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Explain and demonstrate the workings of their specialist instruments or voice, and a range of fundamental musical concepts.
2. Recognise and critically assess a variety of approaches to the teaching and learning of music, through reflection on their own experience, professional literature and observations of studio lessons.
3. Understand, evaluate and apply aspects of current research focused on instrumental and vocal learning and teaching.

Graduate Attributes:

At the conclusion of this course the student will be able to:

Rationale for the inclusion of content and teaching approach

The approach to teaching, as outlined below, emphasises the practical nature of the subject that involves aspects of the art and craft. Each mode of participation - student led, workshops, and observations - allows the student to engage with the subject in a different way, drawing on and developing a range of communicative and reflective skills. This helps to prepare for the articulation and presentation of their expertise to others, when they themselves adopt the role of teacher.

Teaching strategies

Students will be given lecture input on issues shared by a range of specialist instruments or voice, including relevant acoustic properties, mechanical functions, and fundamental musical concepts. These will be complemented by student presentations in laboratory settings, in which they will introduce, demonstrate, discuss and answer questions about their own instruments. Students will participate in workshops, by giving individual lessons to another student on their specialist instrument or voice, with peer and tutor feedback. They will also have the opportunity to lead the class group by teaching a skill. Lecture input will help to prepare students for observations of expert tutors, by introducing issues and methods drawn from professional and research literature.

Assessment

A detailed brief for each assessment task will be published on Moodle, under "Learning activities".

Assessment task	Length	Weight	Learning outcomes assessed	Graduate attributes assessed	Due Date
Essay (40%)	2,000 words	40%	2,3		23 September
Portfolio (60%)	As advised for each component, in the brief published on moodle.	60%	1,2		Portfolio items will be due within one week of your workshop activity

Submission of Assessment Tasks

Students are expected to put their names and student numbers on every page of their assignments. If you encounter a problem when attempting to submit your assignment through Turnitin, please telephone External Support on 9385 3331 or email them on externalteltsupport@unsw.edu.au. Support hours are 8:00am – 10:00pm on weekdays and 9:00am – 5:00pm on weekends (365 days a year). If you are unable to submit your assignment due to a fault with Turnitin you may apply for an extension, but you must retain your ticket number from External Support (along with any other relevant documents) to include as evidence to support your extension application. If you email External Support you will automatically receive a ticket number, but if you telephone you will need to specifically ask for one. Turnitin also provides updates on their system status on Twitter.

Generally in SAM there will no longer be any hard-copy submission; assessments must be submitted electronically via either Turnitin or a Moodle assignment. In instances where this is not possible it will be stated on your course's moodle site with alternative submission details.

All submissions will be electronic.

Late Submission

PLEASE NOTE THAT THESE RULES APPLY FOR ALL COURSES IN SAM.

If your assignment is submitted after the due date, a penalty of 3% per day (including Saturday, Sunday and public holidays) will be imposed for up to 2 weeks. For example, if you are given a mark of 72 out of 100 for an essay, and your essay were handed in two days late, it would attract a penalty of 6% and the mark would be reduced to 66%. If the same essay were handed in seven days late (i.e. a penalty of 21%) it would receive a mark of 51%. If your assignment is not submitted within 2 weeks of its due date, it will receive a mark of 0. For more information on submission of late work, consult the SAM assessment protocols at <https://sam.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/resources/policies-guidelines/>

Extension Procedure

- A student seeking an extension should submit a SAM extension application form (found in Forms on SAM website) to the Course Authority before the due date.
- The Course Authority should respond to the request within two working days of the request.
- The Course Authority can only approve an extension of up to five days. A student requesting an extension of more than five days should complete an application for Special Consideration.
- If a student is granted an extension, failure to comply will result in a penalty. The penalty will be invoked one minute past the approved extension time.
- This procedure does not apply to assessment tasks that take place during regular class hours or any task specifically identified by the Course Authority as not subject to extension requests.
- A student who missed an assessed activity held within class contact hours should apply for Special Consideration via myUNSW.

- For more information, see the SAM extension protocols on the SAM policies and guidelines webpage: <https://sam.arts.unsw.edu.au/students/resources/policies-guidelines/>

Special Consideration

In the case of more serious or ongoing illness or misadventure, you will need to apply for Special Consideration. For information on Special Consideration please go to this URL: <https://student.unsw.edu.au/special-consideration>

Students who are prevented from attending a substantial amount of the course may be advised to apply to withdraw without penalty. This will only be approved in the most extreme and properly documented cases.

Academic honesty and plagiarism

Plagiarism is using the words or ideas of others and presenting them as your own. It can take many forms, from deliberate cheating to accidentally copying from a source without acknowledgement.

UNSW groups plagiarism into the following categories:

- Copying: using the same or very similar words to the original text or idea without acknowledging the source or using quotation marks. This also applies to images, art and design projects, as well as presentations where someone presents another's ideas or words without credit.
- Inappropriate paraphrasing: changing a few words and phrases while mostly retaining the original structure and information without acknowledgement. This also applies in presentations where someone paraphrases another's ideas or words without credit. It also applies to piecing together quotes and paraphrases into a new whole, without referencing and a student's own analysis to bring the material together.
- Collusion: working with others but passing off the work as a person's individual work. Collusion also includes providing your work to another student before the due date, or for the purpose of them plagiarising at any time, paying another person to perform an academic task, stealing or acquiring another person's academic work and copying it, offering to complete another person's work or seeking payment for completing academic work.
- Inappropriate citation: Citing sources which have not been read, without acknowledging the "secondary" source from which knowledge of them has been obtained.
- Duplication ("self-plagiarism"): submitting your own work, in whole or in part, where it has previously been prepared or submitted for another assessment or course at UNSW or another university.

Details of what plagiarism is can be found on the Learning Centre's Website Plagiarism & Academic Integrity website (<http://www.lc.unsw.edu.au/academic-integrity-plagiarism>), in the myUNSW student A-Z: Guide <https://student.unsw.edu.au/plagiarism> and in Appendix A of the Student Misconduct Procedure (pdf- <https://www.gs.unsw.edu.au/policy/documents/studentmisconductprocedures.pdf>).

The Learning Centre also provides substantial education written materials, workshops, and tutorials to aid students, for example:

- Correct referencing practices;
- Paraphrasing, summarising, essay writing and time management
- Appropriate use of and attribution for a range of materials including text, images, formulae and concepts.

Individual assistance is available on request from The Learning Centre. Students are also reminded that careful time management is an important part of study and one of the identified causes of plagiarism is poor time management. Students should allow sufficient time for research, drafting and proper referencing of sources in preparing all assessment items.
